Empowering Women in Film

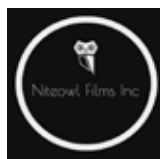

The Archer Film Festival is a high school student film festival dedicated to empowering women in film. And while in recent years the women in top positions in the film industry has increased, there is still more to be done. Women comprised only 21% of all directors, writers, producers, executive producers, editors, and cinematographers working on the top 100 grossing films in 2020 (Center for the Study of Women in Television & Film). The Festival showcases the selected films along with a keynote address.

Every year, more than 2,000 submissions are received, 50% of which come from non-US based filmmakers.

Commitment to Diversity

Archer believes in access to high quality education for all of its 495 students in grades 6-12. Nearly one-quarter of students received financial assistance totaling $4.2 million for the 2020-21 school year. Archer strives to reflect the face of greater Los Angeles in its racial, ethnic, and geographic diversity. The student body represents 75 different zip codes coming from 145 feeder schools, with 46% students of color.

The 10th Annual Archer Film Festival will take place on Thursday, April 22, 2021 at 7:00 p.m.
