Empowering Young Filmmakers

The Archer Film Festival is dedicated to empowering female filmmakers and others who are often overlooked in the industry. The goal is to advance the artform by showcasing work from high school students whose perspectives are rarely seen or heard. As a result, submissions from underrepresented voices are encouraged. Every year, more than 2,000 submissions are received from around the globe.

The festival is student-organized and student-led. It features an industry professional keynote, screening of selected films, and top filmmakers are name and awarded at the event.

Commitment to Diversity

Archer believes in access to high quality education for all of its 505 students in grades 6-12. Nearly one-quarter of students received financial assistance totaling $4.2 million for the 2021-22 school year. Archer strives to reflect the face of greater Los Angeles in its racial, ethnic, and geographic diversity. The student body represents 80 different zip codes coming from 164 feeder schools, with 47% students of color.
